Allocating a Voya Select Advantage IRA Account

Voya Select Advantage IRA is a mutual fund custodial account designed for your retirement assets. It works similar to a retirement plan you may already be familiar with. You pick your mutual fund choices from a predetermined list of options and see the progress of your investments on your quarterly statements or by going online.

Please remember that investments in mutual funds involve investment risk, including risk of loss of principal. Fund shares are not obligations, deposits, or accounts of a bank and are not guaranteed by a bank. In addition, fund shares are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Federal Reserve Bank Board or any other agency.

*There is no guarantee that any investment option will achieve its stated objective. Principal value fluctuates and there is no guarantee of value at any time, including the target date.

The "target date" is the approximate date when you plan to start withdrawing your money. When your target date is reached, you may have more or less than the original amount invested.

For each target date Portfolio, until the day prior to its Target Date, the Portfolio will seek to provide total returns consistent with an asset allocation targeted for an investor who is retiring in approximately each Portfolio's designation Target Year. Prior to choosing a Target Date Portfolio, investors are strongly encouraged to review and understand the Portfolio's objectives and its composition of stocks and bonds, and how the asset allocation will change over time as the target date nears. No two investors are alike and one should not assume that just because they intend to retire in the year corresponding to the Target Date that that specific Portfolio is appropriate and suitable to their risk tolerance. It is recommended that an investor consider carefully the possibility of capital loss in each of the target date Portfolios, the likelihood and magnitude of which will be dependent upon the Portfolio's asset allocation. On the Target Date, the portfolio will seek to provide a combination of total return and stability of principal.

Stocks are more volatile than bonds, and portfolios with a higher concentration of stocks are more likely to experience greater fluctuations in value than portfolios with a higher concentration in bonds. Foreign stocks and small and midcap stocks may be more volatile than large cap stocks. Investing in bonds also entails credit risk and interest rate risk.

The Voya Index Solution Portfolios™ are actively managed and the asset allocation adjusted over time. The portfolios may merge with or change to other portfolios over time. Refer to the prospectus for more information about the specific risks of investing in the various asset classes included in the Voya Index Solution Portfolios.

Investments in international firms present risks not associated with investing domestically, such as currency fluctuation, political risk, differences in accounting practices and limited information. Investments in funds like Prudential Jennison Utility Portfolio could pose greater volatility inherent in a portfolio which concentrates its investments in one economic sector or geographical region.

Stocks of small, small-emerging and intermediate-size companies may have less liquidity than those of larger, established companies and may be subject to greater price volatility and risk than the overall stock market.

Portfolios that invest in high-yield securities are subject to greater credit risk and price fluctuations than portfolios that invest in higher-quality securities. Please refer to the underlying fund prospectus for more information regarding risks associated with the portfolios. Investments in specialty portfolios may entail greater risks, which are more fully described in the prospectus.
